Toptal - Madagascar

Dear sir/madam,

I am a recent graduate from HEI School of computing. Everything related to digital world and technology passionate me indeed. So I would like to apply for an freelance mobile app designer as advertise on Toptal Madagascar.

Working with your team is extremely exciting. Having the opportunity to work with your team, learning more about mobile app design, share my knowledge and my skills about it, acquiring new experiences, developing my sense of responsibility deeply motivate me. My academic background and my previous career have allowed me to acquire the practical skills of graphic design and application development, prototyping, wireframing and this position corresponds exactly. I am creative, curious and like to work in a team.

I remain at your disposal to elaborate further my motivation in an interview, please accept the assurance of my respectful greetings.

Sincerely,

ANDRIANARISOA Vina
